PART I: Explanatory Comments

Use this space to elaborate on any section of this form. If more space is needed, provide as an attachment to this form. Provide explanations for any significant changes in trends/numbers from the previous year's report.

The Social Security Administration (SSA) is not an intelligence agency and, as such, rarely receives classified national security information. When received, it has been classified by another entity as SSA does not have original classification authority. Of the few classified documents received, derivative classification was unnecessary.

Inspections consist of semi-annual meetings/discussions with components of SSA which may receive classified national security information on an occasional basis. The purpose of the meetings/discussions is to determine whether the documents received require derivative classification as well as to determine whether appropriate safeguarding procedures are being followed.
